Elle Zimmerman

KEYNOTE SPEAKER | EXECUTIVE COACH | LEADERSHIP CONSULTANT

Build your Leadership Impact

Providing the tools and guidance to help leaders grow themselves—and their teams—in a world where human connection is the ultimate advantage.

Emotional intelligence and Executive presence aren't soft skills; they're the essential skills that inspire confidence, calm uncertainty, and build cultures of belonging. When leaders cultivate self-awareness, they don't just adapt to change—they anchor others through it.

In a time when artificial intelligence is reshaping how we work and communicate, the leaders who stand out are those who lead with distinctly human intelligence.

> "Elle knows her stuff inside and out and she always teaches in the most humble and beautiful way."
>
> — Tommy Spaulding, NYT Bestselling Author, Globally recognized Leadership Expert

Credentials & Experience

- Senior member, Enneagram in Business Network
- Master Certified Narrative Enneagram Practitioner
- Executive coach to Fortune 500 leaders
- Former professional actress (10+ years)
- Trained at Cincinnati Conservatory of Music (CCM)
- National keynote speaker & leadership expert

Elle blends science, storytelling, and self-awareness to transform how leaders communicate and influence—equipping them with the confidence and emotional intelligence to command the room through energetic, experiential training built for real-world results.

elle

"Elle's program was incredibly valuable. She helped us evolve and become a more improved and cohesive organization."

— Chris Hull, GM Bear Lakes Country Club

Benefits That Elevate Your Club

For Private Club Leaders:

- Strengthen communication and alignment between departments to deliver a seamless member experience.
- Create a culture of trust and consistency that elevates both staff morale and member satisfaction.
- Build emotionally intelligent leaders who stay composed under pressure and lead by example.
- Translate executive presence into everyday influence that drives engagement and accountability.

Executive Leadership Sessions

In member-driven environments, leadership isn't just operational—it's personal. As technology evolves and expectations rise, emotional intelligence and executive presence have become the new non-negotiables. These programs help club executives and teams strengthen communication, build trust, and creat a culture where service feels effortless and members feel seen.

1 The Power of Emotional Intelligence at Work

The essential human advantage in an age of change and technology.

Takeaway: In a world where AI can automate processes but not people, emotional intelligence has become the true competitive edge. Learn how to stay composed under pressure, communicate with empathy, and lead with influence in a rapidly evolving industry where human connection still defines success.

2 Build Executive Presence From the Inside Out

Lead with authority, earn trust, and elevate the member experience.

Takeaway: Use mindset, body language, and communication cues to project credibility, build trust across departments, and influence outcomes—whether you're in the boardroom, the dining room, or on the course.

3 The Enneagram for Leaders

The roadmap to self-awareness, empathy, and stronger teams.

Takeaway: Understand your leadership style, identify what motivates your team, and communicate with empathy. The Enneagram helps club leaders reduce conflict, improve collaboration, and create a culture where everyone thrives.

Elle Zimmerman

elle@ellezimmerman.com
www.ellezimmerman.com
linkedin.com/in/elle-zimmerman5